

1- Micron ASE Module

PRODUCT DATA SHEET

NP Photonics' 1-Micron ASE Module is a high performance, high power, low cost and reliable incoherent light source for optical sensing, testing, and optical coherence tomography.

NP Photonics' 1-Micron ASE Module is a low cost, high performance ASE source. This high power source produces a broadband output spectrum of Amplified Spontaneous Emission (ASE) ranging from 1000 to 1065 nm. The ASE technology, developed at NP Photonics, offers high levels of power, spectral and temperature stability for the most demanding ASE applications.

The 1-Micron ASE Module is a member of our ASE product family that covers a variety of wavelength ranges, spectral shapes, and output powers. All are available in convenient form factors including: OEM Module and Benchtop unit.
